

United Nations
Association
of Australia
ACT Division

8
OCT
2020

AUSTRALIA'S CONTRIBUTION TO PEACE OPERATIONS

Australia has a proud history of involvement with UN Peacekeeping missions. Learn more about Australia's contribution to peace operations, with over 70,000 personnel from the Australian Defence Force, the Australian Federal Police and civilians to more than 80 Operations in 60 countries.

Hear too how peacekeeping veterans combined to build the Australian Peacekeeping Memorial on Anzac Parade.

The speaker Major General Tim Ford, AO (Retired), is a former peacekeeper and Military Adviser at UNHQ, who led the Australian Peacekeeping Memorial Project team.

> DETAILS

WHEN: Thursday 8 October 2020

TIME: 6.00 – 7.00pm

ZOOM: Zoom link will be sent to registered attendees prior to the event date.

REGISTER: <http://bit.ly/UNAAPeace>

> MAJOR GENERAL (RETD) TIM FORD, AO

Tim Ford retired from the Australian Army in 2003, following an extensive career in the Australian Defence Force and the United Nations.

From 1998 until 2002, Major General Ford served in a number of high-ranking United Nations peacekeeping appointments including as the Head of Mission of the United Nations Truce Supervision Organisation (UNTSO) in the Middle East, and as the Chief Military Adviser in the Department of Peacekeeping Operations at UN Headquarters, New York.

From 2005, Tim was the Chair of the Australian Peacekeeping Memorial Project, which was dedicated on Anzac Parade, Canberra on 14th September 2017, the 70th anniversary of Australian peacekeeping. Tim is currently the Director Peace and Security in the United Nations Association of Australia (NSW Division).

United Nations
Association
of Australia
ACT Division

United Nations Association of Australia
Suite 206, Griffin Centre
20 Genge St, Canberra City, ACT 2601
0414 266 932
jenna.allen@unaa.org.au | www.unaa.org.au