

Permaculture, War, Refugees in time of Climate Crisis

Quakers in Asia West Pacific Climate Action Network Webinar Saturday 4 May 2024

Lisbon	Delhi	Kathmandu	Yangon	Singapore	Seoul	Tokyo	Adelaide	Canberra	Wellington
Sat 08:30	Sat 13:00	Sat 13:15	Sat 14:00	Sat 15:30	Sat 16:30	Sat 16:30	Sat 17:00	Sat 17:30	Sat 19:30

Register to attend this inspiring account of Afghan refugees working on climate change, a long way from their war-ravaged home

https://us02web.zoom.us/j/84411221234?pwd=ZlZlc-usrDMiGdRI9kKOisPteGBU_gn-WFs9

A zoom link will be sent to you

Rosemary Morrow

Rowe Morrow (in Bangladesh) We are a global network of Permaculture educators and practitioners working to apply Permaculture in displacement settings. Started in 2016, Permaculture for Refugees has movements in four continents. We support refugees to become Permaculturalists and now (after the fall of Kabul to the Taliban and the war in Ukraine) Permaculturalists who become refugees. Our work has provoked an updated PDC curriculum as we develop innovative ways to teach, and update content relevant for a future of increased forced migration and disasters

Eunice Neves

Associação Terra Sintrópica has been awarded the LUSH Spring Prize for Social and Environmental Regeneration (Young Projects)

Eunice Neves (in Lisbon) After graduating as a Landscape Architect in 2007, Eunice was introduced to Permaculture Design in 2009 and fell in love with it. From 2015-2021, she embarked on a Research Tour around the world to study permaculture pioneering projects. During her research she lived and worked with Rosemary Morrow and collaborated with Permaculture for Refugees. Currently, Eunice is living in Mértola and working with Terra Sintrópica Association as the coordinator of Terra de Abrigo, a permaculture inspired resettlement project for Afghan Refugees